OBITUARIES.

FRAU VON KUHLMANN.

Basm, Switzerland, June 28.—A Constantinople despatch announces the death from typhus of Frau von Kuhlmann, wife of the German Ambassador to Turkey.

Dr. von Kuhimann was attached to the German Embassy in Washington. His wife, whom he married about eleven years ago, was Margaret, daughter and helrees of Baron Huge von Stumm, whose iron works and coal mines are equal in importance to those of the Krupps at Essan. Relations between the Kaiser and the Stumms have always been of the most cordial nature, so much so that four years ago Frau von Kuhimann was created a baroness in her own right, with the name and title of Baroness von Stumm-Ramhols.
